SUPERIOR COURT ENDED FOR WEEK

TWO WYOMING COUNTY CASES WERE ARGUED.

One of them is for the Purpose of Finding Out if Special Officer Fred L. Jayne was Guilty of Assault and Battery Upon Hackman Turner—Judges Will Spend Today and Tomorrow in Consultation. Monday's Session Begins at 2 O'Clock p. m.

The Superior court adjourned for the week yesterday at noon, after hearing the concluding arguments in the Carbone county case of Kistler and others against Schuber, appellant, and brief arguments in two Wyoming county cases. The first of these was the case of Betsy Frost against Charles Allen and Frank T. Knapp, sheriff, appellants. James E. Frear represented the appellants and James W. Platt and C. O. Dersheimer, the appellee. It is an appeal from a verdict of $100, given against the defendants, for trespass in selling farm property in the face of the plaintiff's claim that she and her husband, the one executed against, was the owner of the property. The defense is that she did not give sufficient notice and that she failed to show that she owned the property independent of her husband.

THE JAYNE CASE. The second case was entitled the commonwealth against Fred L. Jayne. He was convicted of assault and battery on Solomon Turner and appeals from the finding of the lower court. Jayne was a special policeman appointed by the Wyoming County Agricultural society to preserve order during its annual fair in September, 1897. Turner is a hack driver and was engaged in carrying passengers between Tunkhannock and the fair grounds. Jayne attempted to prevent Turner from backing his wagon into the opening of the society's private lane leading into the fair grounds, and an altercation ensued, in which the hackman, who is an aged man, was roughly handled.

The policeman claims that Turner was committing a breach of the peace and that only sufficient force was used by him to prevent the breach of the peace.

EXCEEDED AUTHORITY. The court below virtually instructed the jury that Jayne's authority to exercise the right of policeman, under the act empowering county fair associations to appoint policemen, only extended to "infractions of rules and regulations of the agricultural society" and that as there was no formally enacted rule regulating the conduct of hackmen, Jayne exceeded his authority. The appeal is taken on the ground that the court erred in this, and also in not finding that any person has the right to prevent another from committing a breach of the peace.

The judges will spend today and tomorrow in consultation, and it is expected a number of opinions will be ready to be handed down Monday next. Monday's session will not begin until 2 o'clock p. m.

COMMON PLEAS COURT.

Taylor Trespass Case in the Hands of a Jury. A common pleas jury was out at adjournment yesterday in the damage suit in which Mrs. Ellen Taylor was plaintiff and the city of Scranton, defendant. She sued to recover for the damages to her property on Ninth street resulting from the erection of the retaining wall, there, which it was contended diverted travel from the portion of the street on which her property was located and thereby lessened its value as a business place.

The greater part of two days was spent in receiving testimony as to whether or not the property had been damaged. Yesterday morning when the case was closing it was shown that Mrs. Taylor came into possession of the property four years after the improvements to the street had been made. City Solicitor McGinley seized upon this as his main argument against Mrs. Taylor's right to recover and Judge Love in his charge virtually directed the jury to adopt Mr. McGinley's contention. He said that when Mrs. Taylor bought the property she covenanted to accept it as it was. The right to claim damages does not run with the property.

HILL AGAINST WHITMORE.

In the case of Charles Hill against S. C. Whitmore the verdict agreed upon after court adjourned, Wednesday, was presented yesterday morning. It was for the plaintiff. Hill took a lot of mill machinery of Boyer & Son, of Mayfield, in payment of a debt of $460.67, which the Boyer's owed to Hill's company, the Sawyer Lumber company of North Tonawanda, N. Y. The Boyer's gave him a bill of sale and a few days later when he was about to remove the machinery on the strength of this bill of sale, the defendant interposed judgment executions against the Boyer's and prevented his carrying away the machinery. The suit was to determine which creditor should have the property.

The last case called was that of the Stowers' Pork Packing company against E. J. Wolfgang. It was a suit on a $100 check. Nathan Jurkovicz, one of the company's customers, was refused further credit unless he would give some security for what he already owed which was something in excess of $100. He secured a check for $100 from his brother-in-law, E. J. Wolfgang, and presented it to the company. The brother-in-law, a few days later, stopped payment on the check, and when it was returned protested, the company charged it up to Jurkovicz. Now, Wolfgang is fighting payment of the check on the ground that there was no consideration. The jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $111.16.

FROTHINGHAM CASE.

The ejectment suit of Arthur Frothingham against C. H. Welles, which was scheduled for trial yesterday, was continued. Neither of the out-of-town judges could remain over long enough to dispose of the case. All jurors not engaged yesterday morning were discharged for the week.

FIGHT OVER AN ICE HOUSE.

Injunction Was Invoked by Injured Parties. The possession of an ice house and a quantity of saw dust is the bone of contention in an interesting equity suit instituted yesterday by Daniel Van Sickle and Thomas J. Mulholland against Richard Hunt.

The complainants, through Attorney H. W. Mulholland, say that they are the owners of a house on the lands of the defendant, situated about a mile and a half from Jersey on the Dutch Brook road.

They have paid the rent up to date and are willing to pay for the current year, although it is not yet due. Notwithstanding this Hunt, they allege, has distrained the saw dust in the ice house which they erected on the land and has advertised the same for sale. He has also locked the gate leading from the public road to the ice house, nailed up the door of the ice house and is about to begin to fill the ice house for his own benefit.

The defendant, Hunt, it is claimed, is insolvent, or on the point of becoming insolvent and is unable to pay his legal obligations. Irreparable damage is likely to be done the complainants, it is alleged, unless Hunt is restrained and, therefore, they invoke the protection of the equity court.

A preliminary injunction was granted by Judge Edwards restraining Hunt from preventing the complainants from entering into possession of the premises.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

The case of J. W. Guernsey against C. L. Taylor was yesterday discontinued by agreement.

Marriage licenses were yesterday granted to Antonio Cardamino and Giavanna Butera, of Carbondale; Matthew Malenowsky and Mamie Soukourout, of Scranton.

Judge John G. Love granted a rule for a new trial in the case of Joseph Aasey & Son against Elmer Tewksbury on motion of C. R. Pletcher and George M. Watson, attorneys for the plaintiff.

Suit was instituted yesterday by D. L. Potter, W. C. Smith and W. S. Hulstiner to recover from George W. Beemer $50. They allege that, at the instance of the defendant, they did off a part of the property of the Mulford Driving Park association, when it was being sold by the sheriff, on a bid of $100, with an understanding that he would reimburse them. He has failed to do so, they aver, and the suit is the consequence.

FIRE AT VARNISH WORKS.

Building Was Destroyed and the Flames Communicated to the Palentine Hotel Which Was Also Reduced to Ashes.

While an employe of the Scranton Metal Black Varnish company was pouring varnish from a can into a tank last evening at 5 o'clock a spark was seen to fall into the tank by the proprietor, but from where came he could not say. The spark ignited the varnish and by the time an alarm was sounded from Box 75 the place was a mass of flames. The property is situated on the north side of the old Driving park and was a brick building, with wooden interior.

The Liberty, General Phinney and Niagara companies responded and had a stream on the fire in a remarkably short time. Owing to the plugs being frozen one stream was all that could be secured. This stream was directed on the storage house in the rear of the varnish factory, which contained thirty-five barrels of benzine. This building was saved, but the flames soon spread to the Palentine hotel, which stood within twenty feet of the burning building.

A second alarm was turned in, which brought out the Cumberland, Excelsior and Relief companies. Chief Hickey arrived at this time and directed the operations toward saving the surrounding buildings. The wind blew the flames directly on the hotel, but willing hands saved most of the contents.

The Palentine hotel was owned by Attorney George E. Taylor and was leased by John Phalen for hotel purposes. Mr. Phalen did not carry any insurance on his goods. Just how much insurance Mr. Taylor carried could not be ascertained.

IN THE PLAY HOUSES.

"Mr. Beane from Boston." At the Academy of Music last night the Gorman Brothers produced their successful farce comedy, "Mr. Beane from Boston." The three Gormans are great entertainers and they are assisted by an exceptionally strong company of farce comedy artists.

The three acts of the comedy are made up of very entertaining specialties. Dancing by the Gormans is a feature of the performance. One of the best specialties of the performance is introduced by the Barran sisters. Frank Austin, who possesses a forte in local theatrical comedy, several numbers and J. W. Squiers sang in a rich, beautiful bass voice.

"Mr. Beane from Boston" will be repeated this and tomorrow afternoons and evenings.

"The Ragged Earl."

It is said that in "The Ragged Earl," Andrew Mack's new play, which he makes his appearance in this city on Saturday afternoon and evening at the Lyceum, the popular singing comedian is bound to make an immediate hit.

The play which was specially written for him provides him with a role which will enable him to be not only vastly entertaining in a comedy way, but to demonstrate that he is an actor of sterling dramatic qualities as well.

Mr. Mack is a staunch favorite wherever he is known, and it is pretty certain that local theatergoers will not be slow in helping to increase his well deserved popularity.

Next Week at the Academy.

At the Academy next Monday night those who have a desire to see refined comedies and dramas well staged, elegantly costumed and produced with necessary stage accessories at popular prices will have an opportunity to gratify that desire. The Bronsahnan-Jackson Comedy company have made for themselves an enviable reputation not only for the good judgment used in the selection of their repertoires but by the care and attention paid to those little details which go to make perfect performances. THE CAUSE REVEALED

The Real Source of Rheumatism is Finally Found by Scientific Discovery.

For years the medical profession and people generally have been inquiring "what is the cause of rheumatism?" Millions have suffered from its strange attacks, but no one has been able to still wonder what could have caused it. Like all great things in this world, the cause is very simple when clearly understood.

Uric acid in the blood is the one great cause of all this trouble, all this pain, all this annoyance, which so often troubles the human race.

But how does this uric acid get into the blood? That is the great question. Uric acid gets into the blood, poisons the blood, and often ruins the life, because it is not expelled from the system.

But how can it be thrown out of the system? In one way and one way only—through the kidneys. It is not so simple as it may seem. It is true!

It is because the kidneys are not doing their duty that the uric acid remains in the body, got into the blood, causes those terrible pains in the joints and muscles and frequently brings on more serious troubles.

There has never been but one way by which the kidneys could be kept in an exact condition and good working order, and that is by the use of that great modern discovery—Warner's Safe Cure.

This has been proven conclusively by the millions of people who have used it, by the millions who have been helped and by those who are in perfect health today.

You know this, reader, if you will only stop and think. Recall how many times you have read the grateful words of those who were in pain in the depths of bitterness and who have been restored by using Warner's Safe Cure. There are an untold number of people ready who would be in an exhausted condition from rheumatism if it were not for a constant use of this great discovery.

They have made their headquarters at the St. Cloud hotel, but will be the guests part of their time at Jack Siskel's Bon Ton, on Penn avenue.

Payne seems to be in fine condition, and is very confident of winning his match with Hurley. McCoy will reach the city on Sunday evening and Hurley is expected in the city tomorrow afternoon.

Manager Skelly has returned from New York, where he witnessed the McCoy-Sherkey match. He thinks that McCoy is one of the greatest men in his class that the work of pugilism has ever seen, and predicts that he will yet be the heavyweight champion of the world. McCoy had all the best of the fight for eight rounds, Mr. Skelly says, and lost it because of the low blow landed by Sherkey, which many writers have claimed was a palpable foul.
